Paraverbal Communication with Children: Not through Words Alone E.P. Heimlich, A.J. Mark

For over twenty years I have been privileged to observe, participate in, and contribute to the development of the ideas and techniques that culminated in this most unusual, impressive, and useful book. In words the total experience While it is difficult to convey of this innovative therapeutic approach, this volume enables the reader to become a part of these therapy sessions and to learn to "know" and appreciate these fruitful methods. The techniques described in detail in this volume are designed for use with children who are viewed as "resistant" and uncommunicative—a fairly large percentage of youth who have not responded to traditional therapy. The approach is based on many practical assumptions. Among them are the idea that rhythm, of whatever nature, cannot be "shut out"; that one can have pleasure in producing communication (fun of all things); and that pleasure and acceptance lead to the integration of motility, emotions, and ideation. These all lead to increased self-esteem and competence. The selection of the modality is completely individualized and leads to a therapy with the child—not to or at the child. To complete the circle, the method is eminently teachable. Thus, both students in training and practicing therapists who are concerned with promoting growth and development in the children they treat will find this guide exceptionally useful and stimulating.
