Dental Health & Treatment - Dental Cosmetics & Beauty Howard B. Marshall

The very first step you can take to prevent disease is to learn what causes it. Learn what mouth bacteria can really do. Realize that even though dental disease is occurring at a microscopic level, much of it can be prevented by taking only a few minutes a day to hit the agents of disease where it will hurt them. You must learn how diet influences breakdown, and what foods are most destructive. "I am going to try to cover everything you've wanted to know about your mouth, your smile, bad breath, cavities, gum disease, children's dentistry, tooth movement, restorations, replacements, and more. If you are a younger or middle-aged person, with all or most of your teeth, and take the time to learn what is in this book, you may save between $15, 000 and $50, 000 in the course of your lifetime. If you are a senior, this book will help you make the best choices for your needed dental care." "Let's start on this self-help adventure now. I truly want to help you prevent disease, eliminate bad breath, and enjoy your smile and your chewing comfort." Howard Marshall, D.D.S.
